MRS. HALL'S COATS

At the time of the murders Mrs. Hall had a long gray coat and a long light brown coat.

She wore the gray coat when she went to the church with her brother at 2.30 Friday morning. This coat was not sent to be dyed because it was not an expensive one and had been considerably worn. Shortly after Miss Peters arrived in New Brunswick Mrs. Hall gave it to her but eventually the Prosecutor's office asked for it and it has never been returned. The long light brown coat was a more expensive one which had been purchased in the previous spring and well worth dyeing. It therefore was sent to Bernots and eventually went to the Prosecutor's office and is still in the possession of the authorities.
